Training and Mentoring

Project Examples

CPR Group's governance training programs are extremely popular with not-for-profit organisations and volunteers because of their flexibility to meet the day-to-day needs of clubs and associations. Community, sport and recreation groups of all sizes have taken part in our programs to great effect. Feedback about our programs is consistently positive and demonstrates that all participants have gained valuable knowledge and skills by taking part.

One of the things that sets CPR Group apart is that we never adopt a 'one-size-fits-all' approach to business development for not-for-profit organisations. Every program is unique, and tailored to the needs and current situation of each organisation.

- Development of online training and resource hub, clubCOACH – Central Highlands Regional Council
- Development of training videos for Female Facilities Program – Queensland Government Sport and Recreation's Female Facilities Program
